CATHERINE CLAXTON ARNOLD STEPHENS

Step into the world of Ridgway Graphics, an art studio located in the red rocks of Sedona. Inspired from the beauty of southwest landscape, the imagery of Catherine Claxton and Arnold Stephens exemplifies nature, land, and culture of a diverse region . By combining two art forms, painting and photography, they have developed an artistic style uniquely theirs.

Cathy and Arnie started Ridgway Graphics in 1995. As a handweaver, Cathy was interested in the complex use of design and color found in textiles from around the world. The “Textile” notecard series was created to reflect these qualities and to serve as an interpretive and informational medium. Arnie’s long time interest in photography began with black and white landscapes of the American West. He now works exclusively in color. As individual artists, each held solo exhibits, with work additionally shown in juried exhibits. Today they work together and Ridgway Graphics now has over 200 original images in its portfolio, wholesaling throughout the United States to museum stores, National Park bookstores, nature centers and specialty gift shops.

The ceramic tile is the perfect medium to display their art, with each tile handcrafted in their Sedona studio. Images are heat set into a special coating on the tile, giving the art work permanent and lasting qualities.
